

QMICS

Get an Industry Classification System Built for Today's Markets

Say Hello to a Smarter Way to Organize Data

Too often, traditional industry classification systems fail to keep pace with evolving markets. Legacy structures and infrequent updates create disconnects between how companies actually operate and how they're categorized, causing confusion and distorting analytical value.

Features

QMICS is a modern alternative to legacy classification systems, built to align market data with how businesses operate today. By combining familiar structures with updated logic, QMICS helps platforms display clearer, more relevant industry context.

-  Four-Level Classification Structure
-  Code-Based Methodology
-  Revenue-Driven Mapping
-  Modern Industry Categories
-  Targeted Market Coverage
-  Timely Updates

The Right Market Classification for the Right Time

QMICS provides financial platforms, publishers, and data consumers with a modern industry framework that reflects current market realities without unnecessary complexity. Built for clarity and scalability, it supports analytics, discovery, and smarter market storytelling.
